TEAM BUILDING + COMMUNITY + CHARITY

B UNITED is our social, community, and charity outreach program. Throughout the year, the team at Builders United selects local charities to support. Often, we look for programs that hit close to home and have a direct impact on our people and their families. Furthermore, we plan regular team-building events that allow our people to find the common interests with their team members that develop into life-long relationships, both professionally and personally. And lastly, we are active in the communities that we call home. After all, a company can only be ingrained in the community as an organization that will stand the test of time when it digs deep to align with and support the needs of its people.

INDUSTRY + NETWORKS + ASSOCIATIONS

BUILD UNITED is our industry, network, and association outreach program. By networking through associations, we stay connected in our ever-changing industry. This keeps us ahead of the pack in adopting new innovations and improvements. Whether it is holding a seat on a board, improving labor relations with local and regional workforce leaders, or maintaining memberships to various associations, we are always seeking new ways to engage with clients, vendors, and subcontractors. Builders United is completely committed to the industry we serve. We are dedicated to promoting the safety, well-being, and growth of our fellow construction professionals.

GENERAL CONTRACTING + CONSTRUCTION SERVICES

Our very first priority on every project is to clearly establish a strong foundation of communication and a solid relationship. WHY DESIGN- BUILD?

Design-build is a project delivery method in which the design and construction services are contracted by a single entity, the design-build contractor, who coordinates the architect and subcontractors. In contrast to "design-bid-build," design-build relies on a single point of responsibility contract and is used to minimize risks for the project owner and to reduce the delivery schedule by overlapping the design phase and construction phase of a project.

Design-build saves time and money by incorporating innovation and value-engineering from the onset of a project. This brings together the owner, contractor, architect, engineers and specialty trades early to identify and address issues of cost, schedule and constructibility to propose best-value solutions before the design is complete. This reduces owner risk and alleviates conflict and miscommunication between architects, contractors and subcontractors.

Design-build has been described as a high performance "construction project delivery system." Projects are delivered 33.5% faster than projects that are designed and built under the design-bid-build, constructed 12% faster and have a unit cost that is 6.1% lower than design-bid-build projects. Engaging subcontractors early in a project is beneficial in assessing efficiencies, opportunity costs, payback rates, quality options and overall design decisions. The design-build process ultimately leads to a more collaborative, positive and productive experience for everyone involved.
